

Pincher Play Here on Friday Night in Crow League Series

A Red-Hot Exhibition Game Anticipated With Players from Foothills City.

Pincher is out to try and capture the Crow League, judging by the line-up they have mustered, with the veteran Alexander as a tower of strength on the defence, and tomorrow's game here promises to provide a few thrills which it will be well worth going to see.

There are rumors of amateur rules having been set at defiance in respect to registration of players, but the schedule has been ordered completed by the league executive, with the probability of there being a nasty mess to clean up when it comes to the decision of the championship.

In the meantime, Alexander, representing the foothills team, says they are going to get it, despite the league.

The public undoubtedly will welcome seeing keen-edged competition which provides the fans plenty of excitement on their tip-toes, and the more there is to become excited over, the better they like it, for they figure they are getting their money's worth.

At present nobody can forecast who will top the league at the end of the second half now in progress. The Bearcats will not have any easy road to the championship as in former years, and the uncertainty that prevails adds to the general speculation of the forecasters and fans who have watched hockey for years in the Past league games.

Tomorrow's game promises to be a real battle, and a big crowd is anticipated from all of the Past towns.

Coleman Badminton Players Retrieve

Fernie Enthusiasts Came to Coleman and Home Players Won the Majority of Events.

Thirteen of Fernie's Badminton players came this week to play return matches with Coleman, who several weeks since visited the B. C. city, when owing to a low ceiling Fernie put it all over Coleman.

But Coleman players showed they really could play when they were matched against Fernie in a place where they really could play badminton, and in the men's events they won six out of seven. In the mixed doubles honors were divided, but Coleman ladies lost in the majority of the events played by them.

Lunch was served following the tournament games, following which friendly games were played, and Fernie players were highly pleased with their visit and entertainment here.

Pincher and Coleman Deadlocked Last Night's Game

Coleman and Pincher deadlocked in a non-score match last night at Pincher, twenty minutes overtime failing to break the tie.

At Bellevue Blairmore won by a score of 7-9.

Blairmore heads the second half of the league with six points, Coleman second with five points.

Severely Injured by Premature "Shot"

Premature Firing of Shot in Mine Will Result in Enquiry by Mine Inspector.

Deep in the workings of McGillivray mine, Joe Panek miraculously escaped death by the premature firing of a "shot" in the face of the rock, though he was dangerously injured by bad gashes in his head.

The practice in blasting is to place several charges of powder in cartridge form, in holes bored for the purpose. These cartridges are connected by wires, and on completion, a leading wire from these is connected to an electric battery in charge of the fire boss who is supervising.

These connections had been made, but through some unexplained mischance, the fire boss in charge, Purdy, who had only commenced work at this mine quite recently, pressed the lever of his battery before Panek had cleared away, with the result that he was caught by flying rock which lacerated his head and caused other injuries.

He retained sufficient consciousness to drag himself from the debris, but his condition became so serious that instead of operating here he was taken to Calgary accompanied by Dr. Delong, assistant to Dr. Borden, for operation in one of the hospitals there.

The circumstances will be the subject of an investigation by M. Johnson, district inspector of mines, and on his findings will be determined further action, if any.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gamble, on January 8th, a son.

John Denholm is back in the hospital, his injury of last year having caused further trouble.

Mike Dubrowski, employed at International mine, last week was admitted to hospital with a crushed foot and three toes were amputated.

Omnie Hill, who has spent the greater part of the past two years in hospital, with some intermissions, is still a patient there and keeps smiling and cheerful under his handicap.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. MacKinnon returned on Saturday last from Ontario, after spending the Christmas holidays visiting relatives in various places in that province.

Hoist Ship Through Window

When it was decided to exhibit in a London department store for the Christmas season, the historic half-ton water-line model of the Canadian Pacific super-liner "Empress of Britain" which had been featured a few weeks previously in the Lord Mayor's Show, it was found necessary to lift the model about thirty feet in the air so that its great size might be safely admitted to the department store by an upper window. The photographer has caught the scene just as the model is entering the window. Traffic was blocked for an hour during the hoisting of the model, which was carried out with complete success.

Blairmore Bearcats Won on Coleman Ice on Friday

Blairmore Bearcats on Friday retrieved their defeat of New Year's Day by winning against the Coleman Canadians here by a score of 4-2. The game was played before the biggest crowd on record in hockey in recent years.

Blairmore scored a one goal lead in the first period, Johnson scoring first, Vejpveja following with an assist from McKay. The only penalty of the period was against Fraser of Coleman. Both goalies were worked hard and shots rained very fast on their goals. Jenkins scored a nice one from right wing for Coleman, bringing deafening cheers from the fans.

In the second period Gate, Coleman's veteran player, went right through the Blairmore squad and scored. Joyce tried to repeat but slipped at the crucial moment and failed to land the puck. Oakes of Blairmore and Lilya of Coleman each drew penalties.

Vejpveja also scored for Blairmore on an assist by P. Anderson, making 3-2 at the end of the second.

In the third Coleman made determined efforts and the forward line played splendidly, Jenkins particularly distinguishing himself, giving Blairmore goalie a hot time from his attacks. Blairmore were equally aggressive, and McKay scored the fourth goal for the visitors. Towards the end of the period, Coleman had made a shot on Blairmore goal, which the goalie in stopping caught with his hand, and held for a second or two. Gate of Coleman in trying to knock the puck from his hand, gave him a crack with his stick, which immediately excited a few fans who rushed out on the ice. Provincial and mounted police jumped the fence instantly to clear the ice, and a few tense moments added a thrill for the big crowd of howling fans. No casualties occurred.

Whatever lucky breaks there were, they went Blairmore's way. Cologrosso, Coleman goalie, made a splendid save from a shot on his goal in the first period. He caught the puck in his glove, and as he tried to send it out it dropped from his glove and rolled back into the cage.

There were all the thrills of old-time Pass hockey, bringing back memories to the older fans of the Selkirk players who several years ago drew such crowds that the overflow had to climb the overhead beams and rafters in the rink. The keen rivalry exists between Blairmore and Coleman, and the brand of hockey being played this season, promises the keenest competition seen for the past three years, and some big games will naturally follow.

The line-up: Blairmore—Makin, g. d.; Johnson, Manson, defence; Tony Vejpveja, McKay, P. Anderson, Oakes, Evans, N. Anderson, forwards. Coleman—Cologrosso, g. d.; Joyce, Gate, defence; Fraser, Patison, Olive, Lilya, Jenkins, forwards. Coleman was one player short.

BISHOP SHERMAN DELIVERED ADDRESSES ON SUNDAY

On Sunday morning the bishop was the celebrant at Holy Communion at St. Alban's, with the Rev. A. S. Partridge, and in the evening he addressed the congregation of St. Luke's, Blairmore.

In the afternoon he gave a public address in the parish hall at Blairmore, speaking for over an hour on some of the important phases of the Lambeth conference, in which he gave a highly interesting description of principal incidents of that great gathering, at which 308 bishops were present.

His description of the eastern bishops, headed by the Patriarch of Alexandria, in which were included the bishops of Antioch, Ephesus and other places of Biblical fame, on their visit to Canterbury Cathedral, was quite vivid.

Various resolutions which have excited considerable comment throughout the world were spoken of by the bishop, on which he gave some interesting sidelights.

On the conclusion of his address he was tendered a vote of thanks.

Peter Smith returned last week from Drumheller, where he has been living for the past year. Mrs. Smith and children are visiting for a while with relatives near Red Deer, and will return later to Coleman.

Edward Driver Killed in Locomotive Smash Buried Here Sunday

Jury Empanelled Shortly After Fatality States No Blame Attached to Anyone.

Caught between the cab of his own "dinky" or small gasoline locomotive drawing a train or trip of two empty rock cars, and the rear car of a loaded train of muck, when his train overran its proper position at the passing joint and collided with the loaded train, Edward Driver, employed on the river widening operation of the West Kootenay Power & Light company, at Granite Narrows, B. C., was crushed to death Wednesday morning, January 7th, at 11:15 o'clock.

The report of the B. C. provincial police, who immediately following the occurrence, made an investigation, was as follows:

The inquest was held at 1 p.m. in the offices of the company at Granite. The jury was sworn in to view the body and scene of accident.

James W. Dunlop, called as witness, sworn, stated deceased was coming back from the dump with two empty cars, and was on spur nearing switch to main track. He was to stop in the spur to allow me (two) had the right of way, with loaded cars on main track to pass, but apparently Driver did not stop on the spur in the spur. Lambert Nagle, mechanic, was on the track and signalled me to stop. I pulled up the train within two feet but could not avert the accident, and the two locomotives crashed.

The loaded cars struck the locomotive that the deceased man was driving and tore off the cabin and pinned him between the engine and the car, crushing his body and head. Death must have been instantaneous.

Dr. Shaw, who had been called to the scene of the accident before the victim arrived, stated that the deceased could not have lived more than three or four minutes after the crash, and gave as the result of death, fractured skull and internal injuries.

At 2:20 p.m. the jury brought in the following verdict:

That the deceased came to his death as the result of an accident while following employment, and that no blame is attached to anyone.

Funeral on Sunday

The body arrived in Coleman on Saturday night, accompanied by the dead boy's father, H. T. Driver, who had proceeded to Nelson on being advised of the fatality.

On Sunday the funeral was held under the auspices of the Orange Association, the services being held in the United Church, at which the Rev. A. E. Larkin officiated and which was attended by a large number of friends of the family. The pall-bearers were Adam Wilson, Jimmy Wilson, Jack Nash, Tom Blower, T. Hibbert and J. Howarth.

The communal service followed the church service, at which the usual rites of the Orange order were faithfully observed. Many beautiful floral tributes from sorrowing relatives and friends evidenced the sympathy expressed for the bereaved. The funeral arrangements were in charge of A. E. Ferguson.

A Turnover Tax

Financial journals throughout Canada are discussing probable ways and means whereby the Dominion Government will raise the revenues required to carry on all the services and administrative responsibilities of the Federal Government, meet the charges on the public debt, and balance the national budget. The same question is receiving the close attention of the Prime Minister and his cabinet, and before long will demand consideration by Parliament and the people generally.

It is admitted in all quarters that the Dominion will face a deficit in the operations of government for the year 1930-31; that, instead of the national debt being reduced, it will be increased. In view of this situation, steps must be taken to devise new sources of revenue because no further expenditure that could possibly be made would, in themselves, be sufficient to offset the decline in revenues which has taken place, and which it is forecasted will continue this year.

This is not a party question; it is a national problem to be faced and solved. Canada is not alone in having to face such a condition; other nations are in exactly the same box.

It is estimated that the Dominion's deficit this year will be in the neighborhood of $75,000,000. There have been heavy declines in Customs duties, sales tax receipts, excise tax. The income tax yielded a slight increase, but it was payable on 1929 incomes, which were generally greater than in 1930, so that a drop in this source of revenue next year must be anticipated. Furthermore, inasmuch as it is the Government's policy, approved by the people in the last general election, to cut off some hundreds of millions of imports it follows that Customs duties will show a still greater drop this year.

On the expenditure side of the national ledger increases rather than decreases must be looked for. The unemployment relief bill of $20,000,000 has to be met; Old Age Pensions to be borne solely by the Dominion rather than fifty-fifty with the Provinces, and which will be made effective in all Provinces, means an expenditure of another $20,000,000 or more; the completion of the Trans-Canada Highway will be an expensive undertaking.

So more money must be found, and a fairly large sum at that. In view of the fact that the Sales Tax has been reduced to a mere one per cent; that Income Tax returns will be smaller; that Customs duties will take a drop as a result of decreased imports and cannot be depended upon in future to yield the major portion of the national revenue, it is being suggested in Eastern Canada that both the Sales Tax and the Income Tax be abolished in their entirety.

This proposal is deserving of study and should be the subject of discussion by all the people, because it is a tax that will be paid by everybody. It has the merit that no one will be able to escape from it. The other question is, will it be equitable to all in relation to the ability of each and all to pay.

A turnover tax means a tax on every business transaction that takes place in Canada. A Customs tax applies only to articles imported into Canada from other countries; an Excise tax is imposed on only a number of specified articles, intoxicating liquors, tobacco, matches, bank cheques, etc.; the Sales tax is levied on a limited number of transactions. But a turnover tax would mean the levy of the tax on each individual transaction, whether it be on the raw materials sold to the manufacturer, on the manufactured article sold to the jobber or wholesaler, on the same article again when sold by the wholesaler or jobber to the retailer, and again when sold by the retailer to the ultimate consumer. It would mean a tax on railway tickets, telegrams, telephones; it is a tax which hotels and restaurants would have to levy; you would pay it to the barber, to the taxi driver, to the newspaper publishers, to the theatre. And so on all along the line every time an article was sold by some person and purchased by another.

The annual turnover of business in Canada amounts to many billions of dollars,—just how large the amount is it is difficult to even estimate. Even a very small tax, a trifling tax, one per cent, one-half of one per cent, one-quarter of one per cent, would yield an enormous revenue. But where an article passes through many hands or avenues of trade before it reaches the final consumer, even a small tax on each turnover might mean a fairly heavy charge in the end.

Possibly certain exemptions would be provided, but the moment exemptions are provided possibilities for evasion of the tax arise; also the danger of discrimination in favor of one class of people, business or industry. The whole subject is intensely interesting, and, as stated, deserving of close study and full discussion.

A New Style Restaurant

Mechanized System Is Planned By New York Man

Soon a diner will be able to sit down, press a button and his food automatically will appear, according to an invention made public by H. Russell Brand, New York.

Brand soon will open a restaurant where food will be cooked without cooks, will be served without waiters, dishes will be taken away without boys, and will be washed without kitchen help. Was Noted Scientist

Dr. Henry Ami, Canadian Archaeologist, Dies In France

Dr. Henry Ami, one of Canada's outstanding scientists, died recently at Mentone, France, according to news received at his Ottawa home. An archaeologist and paleontologist of international reputation, Dr. Ami started the world of science a few years ago by his discovery of evidence tending to show that the Eskimo races, now found exclusively in the Canadian Arctic, at one time lived in France.

In recent years, Dr. Ami divided his time between France and Canada. He was the founder and leader of the Canadian School of Prehistoric History in France, through which he made the archaeological excavations at Dordonne, upon which he based his theory of the early life of the Eskimos.

Dr. Ami is survived by his widow, three grandchildren, Nicholas F. Slater, Clara and Jeanne-Anne Slater, of Toronto, and a brother William Ami, of the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg.

Woman's Fortitude

Forces Herself To Smile Through Pain

"I never seem to find time to rest," says many an overworked housewife. Under smiles and forced cheerfulness she conceals weariness and nervous depression; headaches and backaches. Often she is in real pain, but still refuses to give up. This very fortitude is apt to be her undoing. If she could, however, let the signals of distress she will sooner or later suffer a serious breakdown.

A noted doctor has stated that nine-tenths of the ills of womanhood are due to poor blood. The anemia is the cause of the low spirits, the poor appetite and palpitation that make life a burden for so many.

There is no need, however, for women to suffer in this way. All the miseries of anemia can be banished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills create an abundance of new rich red blood, and this new blood will bring strength and vitality to nervous, overworked women. The Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Excavations In Mesopotamia

Interesting Discoveries Reported Of

Traces Of Ancient Civilization Excavation in Ur of the Chaldees in Mesopotamia, have uncovered proof of the existence of buildings and a civilization there prior to the flood described in the Bible. It was announced in London, England.

The announcement was made by officials of the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania and the British Museum, headed by G. L. Woolley.

The excavations into the ruins of Ur, it was declared, proved the existence of a civilization in the land which the flood actually covered.

The scientists also discovered interesting tokens of great kings of the third dynasty, about 2400 to 2300 B.C., the report declared.

Cavalry Honors

Units Of Canadian Cavalry Brigade Awarded Battle Honors

Units of the Canadian cavalry brigade are awarded their battle honors in a list published by the Department of National Defence here Saturday. The Royal Canadian Dragoons, a regiment of the permanent force, and the Fort Gary Horse, are included in the distribution, which differs somewhat from that of the infantry battalions of the Canadian corps. Up to the end of 1915 the Canadian cavalry regiments served as "corps troops" taking their turn in the trenches along with the infantry; but early in 1916 they were withdrawn and transferred to one of the British cavalry divisions.

The honors include "Bazentin," 1916; "Pozières," 1916; "Cambria," 1917; "St. Quentin," 1918, and "Beau-revoir," 1918.

Other units whose battle honors are announced are:

The Manitoba Mounted Rifles, the 1st Cavalry Machine Gun Squadron, and the machine gun squadron of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade, of Winnipeg; the Manitoba Rifles, of Portage la Prairie, Man.; the 14th Canadian Light Horse, of Shaunavon, Sask.; the Seaford Highlanders of Canada, which perpetuates the 72nd Canadian Infantry Battalion.

King and Queen Who Ruled In Ireland 2,000 Years Ago

The remains of a king and queen, believed by experts to have reigned from 1,800 to 2,000 years ago, have been found on Shedd, a mountain near Carrick-on-Shannon, Ireland, says the Sunday Times.

The skeletons, lying side by side, were discovered in a vault the entrance of which was barred by a solid block of dressed masonry weighing more than 10 tons. Their heads were facing the former royal seat of Tara, where Irish kings were supposedly crowned in pagan days. Historians believed they are members of a dynasty whose origin has been lost in the mists of antiquity.

Further excavation is being carried out, as treasure and armor are believed concealed in another chamber in the interior of the mountain. The ruins are being guarded night and day by civic guards.

Resourceful Carpenters

Men In Florida Insured Against Starvation Anyway When work fell off, late in the past summer, leaving 130 members of the carpenters' union of Lake Worth, Fla., facing a jobless winter, they secured a 50-acre farm, and those without jobs began working on it at farm laborers' pay. This created more building jobs for the remaining carpenters by decreasing the number seeking employment. Today the farm has 20,000 cabbages, 10,000 egg plants, and large patches of potatoes and beans coming along nicely. "We won't starve, anyway," says Ralph Osborn, president of the union. "If we can't sell our stuff at a profit, we'll eat it."

Unnecessary Noise

Is Not Conducive To Good Health, Says McGill Professor

Life is too loud these days, and this unnecessary clamor is not conducive to good health or good hearing, Professor H. E. Reiley of the Physics Department of McGill University told the Montreal Kiwanis Club recently.

Enemies of noise have collected some interesting data in a recent survey and have come to the following conclusions, he said:

1. That a policeman blows his whistle 10,000 times louder than necessary.
2. That the blast of a steamboat siren is 100,000 times louder than necessary.
3. That an automobile horn is sounded 50,000 times louder than is necessary, and on a clear day can be heard ten miles away.
4. That dogs bark too loudly.
5. That boys shout too loudly.
6. That the milkman, the groceryman, the baker, and the butcher's boy all ring the doorbell too long.

U.S.-CANADA AIR ROUTE OPENS ON FEBRUARY 2

Washington, D.C.—Two new international air mail routes, one linking equatorial heat and Arctic cold; the other involving trans-oceanic travel hazards, were being worked out by postal officials.

Assistant Postmaster-General Glover announced the completed schedule for the United States-Canada route, to open February 2. This will give a continuous Chicago-to-Winnipeg service, with Milwaukee, La Crosse, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Fargo, Grand Forks and Pembina as the stops.

The St. Paul-to-Winnipeg leg covers a 11,000-mile north-to-south stretch, reaching from the Yukon, where mails have hitherto been carried by dog team, through temperate and torrid zones to temperate again, terminating at Buenos Aires, South America, a three-weeks' air trip.

Mr. Glover said he would participate in the ceremonies of opening the route.

Postmaster-General Brown had before him the revised specifications for the European routes by way of the Azores. Several weeks ago, bids were called for but no advertisements were withdrawn because of ambiguity.

The newly-drafted advertisement now only awaits the postmaster-general's approval to be released. Mr. Brown said bids will be opened 60 days after the advertisement appears.

Saskatchewan Legislature

Third Session Of Seventh Legislature

In Formally Opened

Regina, Sask.—The third session of the seventh legislature at Saskatchewan was formally opened Thursday afternoon, January 8, by Sir Frederick W. G. Haultain, official administrator of the province in the absence of Lieutenant-Governor H. W. Newlands.

A salute of 21 guns was fired from the cannon along the lake front, and shortly afterwards Sir Frederick Haultain and his Mounted Police escort arrived at the Parliament Buildings, Haultain, by Lt.-Col. A. G. Styles, aide-de-camp to the lieutenant-governor. Sir Frederick entered the chamber at 3:05 p.m., and proceeding to the dais, read out the speech from the Throne.

The speech from the Throne for the most part consisted of a review of the government's record during the past year, and forecast little new legislation. It stated that the 1930 power transmission line construction program will be continued. Problems confronting the agriculture industry are to be dealt with during the session, but no information was given as to the nature of the legislation to be introduced. Nor was anything said about the proposed highway program.

In connection with public health, the speech announced that an institution to segregate mental defective from the regular mental hospitals was being planned, and also that the government intended to take comprehensive measures against the disease trachoma.

Shipping Into B.C. Decreased

Vancouver, B.C.—Final figures of deep-sea movement into this port in 1930 are now completed by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange and show a total of 1,188 arrivals, of 4,474,225 net tons. This is a reduction as compared with the two preceding years. In 1929 the total was 1,285 vessels and 4,606,640 net tons, and in 1928 it was 1,325 vessels and 1,663,002 net tons.

Reduction In Prices

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, expressed satisfaction at reductions in the price of commodities, including breakfast foods, that had been effected recently as a result of representations made by the labor department. The probe being conducted by the department under the Combines Investigation Act into the price of bread is expected to be concluded shortly.

Wheat Market Menace

Says Russia Can Supply the World With Wheat

Washington, D.C.—Chairman Fish of the special House Communist investigation committee said in the House recently, the use of the United States farm machinery in Russia would do away with the world market for United States wheat.

Production of Russian wheat will be greatly increased by the use of this machinery, he said, that Russia will be able to supply the world. He asked the House to approve his resolution by which the Red Cross would distribute some of the wheat held by the Farm Board to the hungry. This, Fish added, would decrease the surplus in the United States and prevent a drop in the price.

FRANCE PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO WAR HERO

Paris, France.—France, in a final tribute of love and respect to the "Savior" of Paris, gave Marshal Joffre a national funeral which in its grandeur, reminded of that "Day of Aches" when the body of Napoleon Bonaparte was brought back from St. Helena.

The body of the victor of the Marne lay, like that of Napoleon, under the great dome of the Invalides, in a disused sacristy of the Chapel of St. Louis, dedicated to the old crusader king. It was placed there so that Madame Joffre might pray beside her soldier husband in silence.

Some months from now the body will be transferred to "Chestnut Grove," the marshal's country home, where it will entomb in a mausoleum.

Church and state united to make the last rites of France's loved soldier a full expression of the Republic's gratitude and respect. The thousands of French people who filled the gray old cathedral of Notre Dame and the million or more who lined the route of the cortege from the cathedral to the Invalides testified abundantly the love that Paris bore for "Papou" Joffre.

There was not a foot of standing room at Notre Dame when the arrival of President Doumergue signaled the beginning of the Requiem Mass, shortened at Joffre's own request. The highest officials of the government were here in combat garb and representatives of many nations, many of them attending as the personal representatives of rulers and sovereigns. Monsignor Joseph-Marie Tassin, bishop of Schiassur-Marie, read the absolution and gave the final blessing.

Outside in the square in front of the cathedral the cortege formed. Republican Guardsmen in the lead. On either side of the coffin marched a company of infantry, and behind, after the marshal's immediate family, marched the president, members of the government, and the diplomatic corps.

An orderly led "Sorciere," the marshal's horse, caparisoned in black. There was intense silence as the cortege moved slowly up the Rue de Rivoli to the Place de la Concorde and the Grand Palace, where it turned and crossed the Alexander III bridge to the Great Square in front of the Invalides. There Louis Barthou, Minister of War, paid the government's eulogy.

He hailed Joffre as a "savior of world liberty" and said that he was there to "voice the unanimous gratitude of the nation."

After the funeral oration the marshal's body was borne solemnly to the sacristy where it will remain until the mausoleum at Louveciennes is ready.

Mourning for Marshal Joffre was expressed in all the theatres which remained open. Simultaneously in each at 9 o'clock, an actor appeared on the stage and read the marshal's famous Marne battle order of the day in which he called on the French army to die rather than retreat. A minute's silence was asked, and as it ended the orchestra sounded Taps.

British Battle Fleet On Cruise

Portsmouth, England.—The British battleship "Nelson" has started on a cruise during which she will visit the United States fleet at Colon, Panama, February 23. The "Nelson," flying the flag of Admiral Sir Michael Hodge, will head a special squadron of seven new battleships and cruisers, the finest Great Britain has ever sent to the West Indies. The squadron will visit each British possession there.

FIVE ITALIAN FLYERS KILLED IN TAKE-OFF

Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, Africa.—Five Italian aviators died and three others were injured at the start of the great aviation adventure which carried 10 lieutenants safely from this point on the West African coast to Brazil.

The Stefani News Agency, official Italian press service, said that two planes crashed shortly after the take-off.

Two others which were forced to land on the ocean, while General Italo Balbo, took the ten remaining ships safely into Natal, were taken in charge by Italian naval vessels. The Stefani Agency said both were expected to be towed to Gerando Noronha, Brazilian penal island, not far from Natal.

This official announcement by the Stefani Agency clears up the confusion which has existed since Gen. Balbo and his ten ships skimmed to rest at Natal after a speedy trip of 17 hours, 15 minutes yesterday. First reports said that 12 ships left Bolama with two of them landing at sea en route, but later despatches from various sources asserted that two had not been able to take off.

Two of them were repair and replacement units not scheduled to make the trip originally—take off. Of the two which met disaster, Captain Renango took up one from the water, but it dived sharply after reaching an altitude of only about 50 yards. The man killed, a sergeant-major acting as mechanic, was riding above the right pontoon, which was shoved upward and wrecked when the plane dropped to the surface. Captain Renango, another officer acting as co-pilot, and the radio operator, were injured.

The other unfortunate ship, commanded by Captain Boer, flew all right for about 10 minutes after the take-off, but suddenly was forced to land at full speed.

So sharply did the heavy seaplane slip down upon the ocean, that fire broke out and burned to death the four occupants, Captain Boer, Lieutenant Barbinetti, Sergeant Mechanic Nenis, and Radio Operator Barbinetti. The accidents were attributed to the extremely heavy loads carried.

Postpones Flight

Amey Johnson, British Girl Flyer, Will Await More Favorable Weather. Warsaw, Poland.—Amey Johnson, the British girl flyer, has postponed her flight to China until more favorable weather, which she does not expect to have before spring.

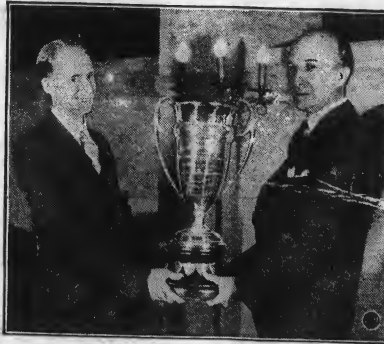

So sharply did the heavy seaplane slip down upon the ocean, that fire broke out and burned to death the four occupants, Captain Boer, Lieutenant Barbinetti, Sergeant Mechanic Nenis, and Radio Operator Barbinetti. The accidents were attributed to the extremely heavy loads carried.

She expects to return to Warsaw this week, by which time her plane, damaged when it was forced down on Amelia, near here, will have been repaired.

Saskatchewan Village Has Dicastrous Fire

Business Section Of Mayfair Is Practically In Ruins

Saskatoon, Sask.—The explosion of a lamp leaves the village of Mayfair, on the new Speers-Rabbi Lake branch, northwest of Saskatoon, with most of its business places in ruins. Before the fire could be checked two general stores, the Bank of Toronto building, and a Chinese restaurant were gutted. An early estimate sets the damage at around $30,000.

David Cunningham was about to retire when the explosion of a lamp in his store quickly spread rapidly and despite desperate efforts of the villagers who worked a bucket brigade, F. W. Allen's store and post office, the bank and restaurant were enveloped in flames. Without any fire equipment the villagers tore down an implement office and so stopped any further spread of flames.

Mayfair, which is 22 miles north of Speers, was established only two and a half years ago when the new branch line went through that territory.

Provinces Pay Five Per Cent.

Ottawa Assumes Bulk Of Cost Of Old Age Pensions

Winnipeg, Man.—The Dominion Government in future will pay 95 per cent. of the cost of old age pensions, it was revealed by John Bracken, premier of Manitoba.

Mr. Bracken in commenting on the western premiers' conference here with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, disclosed that assurance had been given by Mr. Bennett that the provinces would be called upon to pay only 5 per cent. of the old age pensions charges as compared with the 50 per cent. now contributed.

Wellington, N.Z.—Guy Menzies, young Sydney aviator, made the first light plane flight between Australia and New Zealand. He took Charles Kingsford-Smith's "Southern Cross" over the 1,200 miles between Sydney and Westland in 13 1/4 hours. He came down in a swamp near Ross, damaging the plane slightly.

Canada Scholarship Fund

Large Amount Being Subscribed To Bring British Graduates Here

Montreal.—Subscription of $600,000 is now being made in Canada and England, to be known as the "Canada Scholarship Fund," to bring British public or secondary school graduates to Canada for their university education and subsequent entrance to Canadian life.

Canada's allotment of the fund is half of the total, most of which has already been pledged upon condition that a similar amount is raised in Great Britain, according to an announcement made today at McGill University.

E. W. Beatty, K.C., is the chairman of the Canadian committee which also comprises Sir Arthur Currie, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University.

Brig.-Gen. V. W. Odlum, of Vancouver, and Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, are members of the committee.

A MEASURE OF HOME RULE FOR INDIA PROBABLE

London, England.—Hindus, Moslems and Europeans of India have joined in support of the scheme of home rule for India, which was laid before the round-table conference some days ago by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru. The same plan, in its essential, was accepted by Lord Reading on behalf of the British Liberal delegates, but was received by the British Conservative delegates coldly and non-committally.

Gavin Jones, president of the European Association of India, before the conference committee, described the present government of India as hopeless and humiliatingly weak. The country was drifting into chaos, he said. He could see no way out but to give a larger measure of responsibility to the Indian legislature.

Sir Bhupendra Mitra, one of India's leading financial experts, thought no greater safeguards should be imposed on the Indian government than were imposed on Canada when she was created a Dominion.

Sir Bhupendra, indeed, termed the new administration "the Dominion government of India." M. A. Jinnah, a prominent Moslem barrister, declared he was under no misapprehension that India was not going to get either Dominion status or full responsible government. He strongly argued, however, that some of the proposed safeguards were unnecessary.

"It is very commonly said in England," Jinnah added, "that we must tell you, you can neither rule India nor get out. Are you going to meet the situation that has arisen in India or not? I say that it will indicate an utter bankruptcy of British statesmanship if you do not meet the situation before you leave."

Jinnah criticized the attitude of Sir Samuel Hoare, the Conservative spokesman. "Sir Samuel said that he would take a non-committal attitude. That was the only contribution he could make to the discussion," he said.

The situation in India was thus summed up by Jinnah:

"There is the position in India: One strong body stands for complete independence. Another solid body stands for Dominion status. Now we have come to you and we say: Are you going to agree to that measure of responsibility which will give over to your decisions the large bulk of these politically united people, so that they will say 'Now we have got something which is worth something; now we have something substantial to work for?'"

Sir C. P. Alvar also pleaded for responsible government, saying he believed the viceroy should have power to govern in case of a complete constitutional breakdown, but that the ordinary machinery should be left to handle the situation otherwise.

Sir Sultan Ahmed, Moslem barrister, expressed hopes that the British Conservatives in time would come to agree with Lord Reading, Liberal spokesman, in acceptance of the Sapru scheme of responsible government. He also declared the Indian response to Lord Reading's speech had been electric, and Bombay had been particularly pleased.

Warm tribute to Lord Willingdon, the newly-appointed viceroy, for his attitude while Governor of Madras some years ago, was paid by Sir C. P. Alvar. He remarked that Lord Willingdon had taken all the ministers and the legislature into his confidence, and as a result had secured their willing co-operation.

WIDER TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA IS ANTICIPATED

Victoria, B.C.—Hon. Parker Moloney, minister of markets and transports for Australia, said he would recommend the Australian cabinet to "go the limit" in diverting to Canada trade which was going to foreign countries and which could come to this dominion, in an address here recently.

Mr. Moloney said he was leaving Canada with the highest hopes and expectations for the negotiations he had conducted at Ottawa.

"What we have done at Ottawa will, in my opinion, culminate in a trade treaty which will be of lasting benefit to both dominions," he said.

"I believe what we have done at Ottawa will have a great psychological effect upon the next Imperial conference in Ottawa," he added. "Many others will want to fall in line with us."

Mr. Moloney attended a memorial service held in the cathedral here for Marshal Joffre.

He called upon the provincial government, and while no announcement was made, it was understood the conference was satisfactory. British Columbia's desire for a lumber preference was believed to have been discussed. Mr. Moloney also continued conferences with Okanagan Fruit Growers, who hope to build a market in Australia for British Columbia fruit products.

NOTES AND COMMENTSSOME MERCHANTS ARREST BUSINESS

The following editorial, which is not ours, is considered of sufficient interest that it is published in The Journal without any comment. It conveys a message worth considering by all who are in business:

Many business men frighten customers. Some men go about with a bunch of keys for locking doors to keep customers out! The moment customers show signs of diminishing that moment some doors of admission are locked! Some merchants stop and arrest business, says the St. Paul Journal.

One might imagine that when the general public shows a tendency to spend less because of fear of bad times, sellers would widen their efforts to maintain their normal sales volume. Yet the fact is that, all too commonly, the managers of businesses, with the consent of principals, start in to lock entrance doors! They put business in jail!

Every business enterprise has a job to do. Sometimes the job is easy, sometimes hard, yet, easy or hard the job remains. The job is to pay capital its due wages; in other words to earn a net profit whose amount is a definite and pre-calculated percentage of capital. Capital's wages may require to be as much as 20 per cent. taking to account all the financial burdens resting on a business—dividends to shareholders, profits taxation, capital reserves, additional working capital, and so on.

Capital is an employee which cannot be dismissed as can a flesh-and-blood employee; it remains undiminished and imperative in good times and bad. Capital's imperative wages become harder to pay in lean times than in fat times, and so, in bad or difficult times, employers of capital are under obligation to strive more, not less, to obtain the necessary income to pay capital its wage. Difficult times require business principals to widen entrance doors, to intensify sales efforts, to cast their nets into farther waters, to multiply their invitations to shoppers and make them ardent.

Merchants who say, Reduce Your Advertising; reduce staff and reduce your sales endeavours to make sales and get customers, are the arresters of business. They become the robbers of capital and of those who supplied it.

Businesses need managers; but managers who choke and contract inlets of income should themselves be arrested or seek other fields.—Ex.

"Two men looked out from prison bars,

One saw mud, the other, stars."

This was a quotation referred to by Bishop Sherman in his address at Blairmore on Sunday, at the evening service. Though he did not admire it as poetry, he did for the truth it contained. Isn't it a fact! One individual looks out on the world and everything is fine in his eyes—fine people, fine sunshine, everything fine. Another sees only a drab meaningless future. Who is to blame? Look for the good, you will find it, and vice versa.

The glories of Nature's handiwork of hundreds of centuries is demonstrated to far greater extent in these mountains than in those places which look out over boundless stretches of flat country. The remark has been heard, "I don't know why I should live in a place as this." A person with a viewpoint such as this possibly would not be wanted anywhere, and any community wherein such a soul lives is not enriched by his presence.

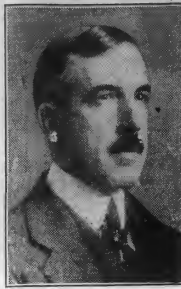

"High Hatting" is a term used to denote those who would assume a lofty or superior attitude towards others. It is not as dangerous as "hi-jacking."

Time is our most valuable possession. Many do not realize it, judging by the liberal manner in which it is squandered, but it can be spent profitably in leisure, if you know how. Remember always, that time is money.

As a means of reducing the surplus of wheat in Canada, G. G. Coote, M. P., suggests that the Canadian dollar be allowed to go below its par value. If, for instance, the dollar is valued only at 80c outside of Canada, then it would encourage the purchase of Canadian products, and thereby go a long way towards relieving the existing situation.

This certainly would be a bitter pill for Hon. R. B. Bennett to swallow, yet of what use are the vast stocks unsold? Any measure that would put into motion the moving of Canadian wheat would be good business. Better to sell a dollar's worth of Canadian wheat for 80c to other countries than to keep it stored in elevators all over the country.

Ratepayers are reminded that the annual meeting will be held two weeks from to-morrow, and it is their duty to be present when the year's reports are presented.

Gets New Post

Forty years of railroad experience have singularly fitted George Hodge, assistant general manager Eastern Lines, for the post of manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway's new Department of Personnel. He is one of the best known and most popular railway executives on the American continent, has been the company's spokesman in labor matters on a number of important occasions, and won unstinted praise for his able presentation of the situation at the time of the McAdoo award. He is a Montreale, and has, with the exception of a year in London, Ont., as divisional superintendent, always had his headquarters in that city.

Curling Club Warming Up

Curling games are being played according to schedule and W. Lee's rink had a winning streak of five games in succession up till Monday night, when Jimmy Yates skipped the rink and was defeated by Jack Bell's rink.

The trophies usually awarded in the various competitions will this year be awarded on the basis of the aggregate wins to the credit of the rinks.

The district hospital which year opens at Cranbrook on Jan. 26, at which rink from all the Pass towns will attend. It is expected that H. C. McBurney and J. S. D'Apollonia will skip rinks from Coleman.

New Year's Resolutions

Another year is gone and numbered with the past, and as we older grow, each year seems shorter than the last. Have we done any little good in the year that has just gone? How often we have left undone the things we should have done. Have we held out a friendly hand to help the one that's down; for only by kindly deeds can we hope to win a crown. Have we done unto others as we would others do to us? Have we tried in every way to be honest, kind and true? For as the moments go flying by just crowding on each other, they seem to whisper as they fly, you must love one another; How often have we resolved to do what was just and right, and then go on and swear and curse and get mad enough to fight. I try each day to do some little deed of kindness if I can, to be some help to those in need, to help my fellow man. But when the day is ended and I would go to rest, and looking back, I find I've failed, although I've done my best. And off on Sunday morning, my thoughts will run like this—not doing the things that's right much happiness we miss. So I will start this day aright and yes, throughout the week, will walk the straight and narrow path and righteousness will seek. Will go to church in the morning and then again at night. Will go and read to Sister Black and call on brother White; And at the hospital will call and help cheer up the sick, for down with the flu is granny Blue and Harry, Tom and Dick. And so I planned to spend the day in loving deeds and kind, but, alas! all the good I've done was only in my mind. For when getting out of bed I forgot to kneel and pray, for strength to do aright and guide me through the day. If you do not start the day with prayer and meek devotion, it is just as hard to do right as 'tis to dry the ocean. So I started in to do the chores, the chores I do each day, to go and milk the muley cow and give the horse some hay. To feed the ducks, geese and hens, the turkeys and the rabbits, the beastly things would make you mad, they're getting awful habits, of doing things they should not do, not doing what they should. They will quarrel and fight, snap and bite and kick about the food, from early morn till late at night there was one continuous battle, which may be right for men to do, but very wrong for cattle. So all the good deeds I had planned were quickly wiped away. You find it's hard to do much good if you forget to pray.

"Peeping Tom" Rumors

Exaggerated rumors which accumulate sensationalism as they travel, have been circulating this week to the discomfiture of little children and nervous women. Enquiries have failed to secure any evidence of the hooey man or spook accosting or molesting young ladies at night, or of peeping through windows. Two young ladies whom reports said had been chased by a man were proved to be groundless, as they knew nothing of it.

The most amusing incident is one in which Sid Short was the principal. Reception on his radio was poor, and he was looking over the aerial and the leads, which necessitated him looking through a hole beneath the window. A lady neighbor saw this supposed peeping Tom disappear, and gave the alarm to Mr. and Mrs. Short. Sid without a moment's hesitation rushed out looking for the villain, and after a couple of turns around the house, came in and said: "Oh hell—that was just me looking through the window." And so another mystery was laid by the heels, or the tail, and frightened women and children breathed more freely.

Here and There

(680) Forty years of service with the Canadian Pacific Railway have received recognition in the appointment of George Hodge, assistant general manager, eastern lines, to be manager of the newly-created department of Personnel of the railway, announced by Grant Hall, vice-president of the company recently. Mr. Hodge was specially selected for the appointment in view of his wide experience in labor matters and his particular flair for arbitration and kindred activities. He was specially in the limelight at the time the McAdoo award when his presentation of that situation evoked unstinted praise in Canada and the United States.

Likelihood of a large entry list from the Prairies for the thirty annual Empire Hotel Midwinter Golf tournament to be played at Victoria Golf Club February 22-23 is indicated in enquiries pouring in from leading amateurs of the West. Last year the tourney brought together 150 leading men and women golfers of the North Pacific and the Prairies and was the platform who upset the dope by carrying off important portions of the silverware against the best golfers of Victoria, Seattle, Vancouver, Tacoma, Portland and Spokane.

Since the opening in 1923 of the New Brunswick School of Agriculture, 150 young men have attended the annual fall short course in practical agriculture. Attendance at the 1930 course which closed December 19, was the largest on record, the number of students registered being 38, half of them being members of young people's clubs and poultry clubs. The silver cup for general proficiency was awarded to Ralph H. Colpitts, of Pelt Colville.

So fine is the quality of the turf exported by Bent Grass seed, a comparatively new variety produced in Canada, that during the past five years between 50,000 and 75,000 pounds of the seed have been exported to the United States each year. The best quality is produced in Prince Edward Island and is used for lawns, golfing and bowling greens.

Motor tourist traffic to New Brunswick from the United States was 44 per cent greater in 1930 than in the previous year, this percentage of increase in tourist business being the greatest shown by any province of Dominion during that year. It is claimed by the New Brunswick Government Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel. Value of the trade is placed by independent estimates at $18,000,000 in 1929 which must have been fully maintained if not up to $20,000,000 in 1930.

One hundred pure-bred dairy cows were recently shipped from Vancouver to Hong Kong, being the largest shipment of cows that has been made from Canada to the Orient. Sixty per cent of the shipment were Holsteins and the balance Ayrshires and Guernseys.

Old Dobbin is not being supplanted by the tractor and motor car in Canada since there were in June 1930, 3,295,028 horses on Canadian farms compared with 3,460,352 in June 1929, a very small decrease in a decade. Combined figures for Alberta and Saskatchewan where there is a constant tendency toward mechanization in farm work were 86,673 less horses than the previous year which practically accounts for the decrease throughout the whole of the Dominion.

Here and There

(666) Canada looms more important than ever in the trans-Pacific carrying trade, since the Empress of Japan sailed from Vancouver recently with a total of 598 passengers for Honolulu and the Far East, setting a record for the Canadian Pacific White Empresses for the year and amply justifying the company's expenditure of $200,000 in a ship which is the largest and fastest on the Pacific.

Emergency work in the west on Cans 3-4 Pacific Railway construction this fall and winter represents expenditure of more than half a million dollars in alleviation of unemployment. The work is being undertaken in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Similar relief in the East is seen in the fact that 250 former employees are now being taken on at the Angus Shops, Montreal, where they will work on repairs to passenger cars.

Bound on her 30,000-mile annual Canadian Pacific cruise around the world, the ship will last four and a half months, the S.S. Empress of Australia sailed on the first lap of her voyage from New York December 2. She will touch at 31 ports and places in 24 countries during the trip and will be at sea 78 days and in port 32 days. She sailed with a capacity passenger list.

Patrons of the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, will enjoy the finest beef at the coming Christmas and New Year festivities possible to procure as a result of the purchase by the hotel management of 60 prize animals at the Royal Winter Fair held at Toronto recently.

A tablet has been erected at Windsor, N. S., by the Canadian Government commemorating the founding of King's College in 1789, the first university in Canada and the oldest in the British overseas dominions.

Total production of honey this year in Saskatchewan will be over 700,000 pounds, an increase of about 300,000 pounds over the output in 1929. Since 1927 the number of bee colonies in Saskatchewan has increased 213 per cent.

At the Ideal Homes Exhibition recently held in Edinburgh, Scotland, a Canadian exhibit was awarded the gold medal for general excellence. This award was made in the face of keen competition from more than 100 exhibitors from all parts of the British Empire.

A preliminary report on Canadian tobacco production shows the 1930 area at 41,291 acres and the production at 36,712,700 pounds, as compared with last year's area of 37,700 acres with an output of 28,786,000 pounds. In 1930 Ontario harvested 23,376,000 pounds from 32,170 acres; Quebec had 8,840,000 pounds from 9,900 acres and British Columbia 144,700 pounds from 221 acres.

Gross value of the manufactured products of the pulp and paper industry in Canada for 1929 was $218,970,761. This does not include pulpmill nor the pulp made in excised pulp and paper mills for their own use in making paper.

Advertising Denotes the Personality Of Your Store

By it the public judge your attitude. It is a powerful lever to interest the public. Stores which have persistently advertised and have backed it up by consistent effort to serve the public honestly and efficiently, show steady progress. It works unconsciously. It impresses people. It brings to their attention who you are and what you have to sell.

Many readers of The Journal make it a practice to look first thing each week for the Grocery Specials, because they are a daily need. Many other lines they may not buy as frequently, but they buy them at some time, and somebody is buying all the time.

It is the stores which keep themselves in the public eye by steady advertising that reap the benefits of the bulk of the business. Others may get what's left, which usually is very little.

Flowerpot Island

Island in Georgian Bay Turned Over To National Parks Board

Flowerpot Island, in Georgian Bay, has been turned over to the national parks branch of the Department of the Interior. It is situated at the north end of the Bruce Peninsula, and gets its name from two rock formations that resemble huge flowerpots. They have been formed by erosion by the sea, and have trees growing on the top. The parks branch will reinforce the "flowerpots" as their bases are in danger of being eaten away entirely by the action of the waves.

Crows Nest Rates To Churchill

Will Effect a Big Saving To Saskatchewan Farmers
Inauguration of the Crows Nest rates to Churchill on the Hudson Bay Railway will mean an average saving over regular rates of 12.24 cents per bushel on wheat shipped from Saskatchewan, according to calculations made by George H. Smith, freight rates expert of the Saskatchewan Government. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, in his address at Regina, indicated that rates of the Crows Nest rate basis would be effective on the Hudson Bay Railway.

The average rate reduction, according to figures compiled by the department of railways, labor and industries, is 20.4 cents per 100 pounds. The saving from Regina is 20.4 cents; from Moose Jaw, 20 cents; from Saskatoon, 21.4 cents; from Semans, 20.4 cents; from Melville, 19.4 cents; from Yorkton, 20 cents; Prince Albert, 19.4 cents; North Battleford, 20 cents; Lloydminster, 21 cents; and Alaskan, 21.4 cents. This saving is over the mileage grain rates which would otherwise be in force.

Hon. J. A. Merkle, Minister of Railways, Labor and Industries, stated that arrangements have been made by the freight rates branch of his department to carefully compile the schedules of the Crows Nest grain rates to Churchill from all Saskatchewan points. When this work is completed, the Canadian National Railway will file the freight tariff containing the rates with the railway commission at Ottawa.

That the Crows Nest rates should be applied from all Saskatchewan points on flour, oatmeal, bran, and other mill products in order that the movement of these commodities over the Hudson Bay Railway should also receive the benefit of the rates is the opinion of the provincial government. The matter is being taken up.

Saskatchewan Oil Discovery

Another Find Of Oil Reported In the Redclay Valley

Another find of oil is reported in the Redclay Valley on the farm of Thomas Powley. It is found that when pumping water, greasy substance comes up with the water and when separated readily ignites.

This greasy substance comes up through a strata of sandstone and this sandstone when split open reveals samples of forest leaves embedded in the rock. P. Reider, of Redclay, Sask., opened up some of the sandstone formation and on splitting the rock found the leaves in almost perfect condition. It shows that at some time the whole of the valley must have been a dense forest.

The farmers are of the opinion that gas and oil abounds in huge quantities under the rock formation at least 500 feet. Mud geysers exist in eight or nine places and seem to be bottomless, continually bubbling with grease and oil.

The Canadian Pacific Railway runs right through the centre of this coal and oil valley from end to end. A government inspector stated that requests have been received to drill in the townsite of Redclay but so far no permission has been granted owing to the compact nature of the village.

The new find of Thomas Powley is just one mile up the valley from the C.P.R. depot and of course would be less hazardous for exploitation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 18

THE MINISTRY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

Golden Text: "Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance."—Luke 3:8.

Lesson: Luke 3.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:3-11.

Explanations and Comments

John's Preaching In the Wilderness, verses 1-6.—To John, son of Zacharias, the word of the Lord came (he was made conscious that this was God's plan for him), directing him to go to the Jordan, and preach the baptism of repentance unto the remission of sins; thereby, says Luke, fulfilling the words of Isaiah (Isaiah 40:3-5).

John baptized, that is, he used a purifying rite in connection with his preaching. It helps to remember the distinction between baptism as practiced in the Christian Church, and as practised by John. In the church baptism has come to be regarded as a dedicatory rite by some, and by others as an initial and confessional rite. But in the first use of it, by John and Jesus, it was a purifying rite. It was a confession, too, but of sin, and the need of cleansing, not, as later, of faith in a person, or a creed, although it did imply acceptance of a man's leadership. To a Hebrew mind it was preaching by symbol as well as by word.—S. D. Gordon.

The Call To Repentance, verses 7-9.—Our poet Lowell speaks of "A kind of maddened John the Baptist To whom the hardest word comes easiest."

And harsh indeed was John's word to the multitude who came to him to be baptized: "Ye offspring of vipers," was the way in which he addressed them. Vipers and serpents were considered emblems of deceitfulness and wickedness; John called Pharisees and Sadducees by this term because, knowing their natural deceitfulness and cunning, he doubted the sincerity of their desire to come to him. And he questioned them: "Who thought it worth while to warn you to flee from the Day of Judgment?" The picture of serpents in the fields fleeing before the farmer when the stubble is set on fire. The coming of the Messiah was expected to be a day of judgment. Luke 2:23. Since the Pharisees thought themselves so righteous, they should not have feared the judgment; the Sadducees professed not to believe in it, they should not have been disturbed.

"Bring forth therefore"—if you would escape the wrath—"fruit worthy of repentance," deeds that will prove the sincerity of your repentance.

"A new life is the best and most sublime penitence."—Martin Luther.

Fish Farming

New Idea Is Being Promoted In British Columbia

"Fish Farms" are now being promoted in British Columbia. An undertaking is under way to obtain from the Provincial Government a lease of a small lake which is to be stocked with commercial fish, such as whitefish or lake trout, with a view to providing the general market with fresh fresh-water fish. The fish would be ready three or four years after stocking the lake.

Another Scientific Discovery

Short Wave Radio Said To Cut Virulence Of Diphtheria Poison

Science has opened a hitherto unknown opportunity for short wave radio—a newly found power to cut the virulence of diphtheria poison.

In one sentence this discovery was summarized to the Society of American Bacteriologists by Wacław T. Szymonowski and Robert Allan Hicks of Western Pennsylvania hospital, Pittsburgh.

"Highly potent diphtheria toxin," they stated, "is found to be diminished in strength by the action of short electric waves, 1.9 and 3.76 meters, at approximately 158,000,000 and 80,000,000 cycles per second."

Diphtheria toxin is the poison which causes the disease and is produced by diphtheria bacteria. The radio waves are the same sort which were announced about a year ago as producing artificial fever in human beings.

"Come," he said at last, "take down those hands or I'll do it for you. Sit down, Angela. If you're really suffering, I'm sorry; but you're a good actress, and you've cheated me too many times. I never mention the Ashleys unless you drive me to it, or as a warning. God! do you think I want to remember?"

She sank onto a divan, and her arms relaxed. Her husband moved nearer.

"You told me," he said, "that if you had a garden—something to work over—you'd be safe. You were frightened then. You probably believed it. But I can see now that the garden is only a pose. It doesn't absorb you any more than does your painting—or your singing, at which you might do something worth while. Nothing has ever absorbed you but the pursuit of man. If you had a child—"

She looked at him, and her lip curled.

"Didn't you once say that I was not fit to be a father?"

"You're not; but—"

Her eyes blazed.

"I suppose you'd like to see me turn into a doddle, like that stupid little morose next door. Two babies in four years! I call it indecent. I don't believe she's seen her back hair in a mirror since the first one came."

I doubt if she's had a new gown since the last. I dare say she'll have a third before she has time to see a dress-maker. That sort always does. She's stupid—too stupid to know her own husband—too stupid to see that a man won't stand her untidy ways.

Why, by lifting a finger I could have Nick Hastings eating out of my hand!"

"Take care then, that you don't lift it; but I'm not so sure. I thought you liked more than a finger the other night, and as I told you then—it didn't work."

Angela laughed bitterly.

"Well, I'll show you that it will work. I—"

"You will not! Do you understand? I don't ask you to promise, because I know you won't keep your promises; but I shall watch, and you know, Angela, things don't escape me."

He moved toward the door as if the interview were at an end; then paused, looking back at the blue figure on the divan. Angela's shoulders had drooped in an attitude of such weariness as she seldom allowed herself. Even her eyes looked tired; and at the sight something boomed wistfully across her husband's face—an elusive thing that seldom came there, wiping away the cynicism, leaving in its place a glimpse of something better that fought unhappily for life. He turned, and going to her side, laid his hand gently on her arm.

"My dear—I don't mean to be unkind. Deep in your heart you know that I have never been unkind—don't you? More than anything in the world, Angela, I desire your happiness. There is nothing I would not do for you, if—if you could be satisfied with me alone."

"You!"

She sprang up, shaking off his hand as if it scorched her.

"You!"

She laughed, scornfully, and sweeping past him without a glance, ran up the stairs.

For a moment James Halliday stood where she had left him. It was not until the sound of her feet was silenced, that he sighed, wearily, like a man who has fought and lost.

Then, catching sight of himself in a long mirror, he straightened up, and his lips took on their familiar, unpleasant curve. There was no trace left of the thing that had lighted his face a moment since; and with a shrug that might have been Angela's very own, he went back to his study and the day's work.

CHAPTER IX.

Gay had been gone a month, a month that had brought color to her cheeks and rest to her eyes. She was right in thinking that morbid ideas couldn't live under the same roof with Uncle Sam. His untiring kindness—his faith in God and his fellow men—was something before which doubt and suspicion faded away. And the Sundays with Nick had been like a repetition of their honeymoon. One never-to-be-forgotten day they left the babies with Uncle Sam and his housekeeper, and tramped off together, as care-free as two children out of school.

"You just leave your responsibilities with Mrs. Bemis and me, and forget all about 'em for a spell," said Nick. "You'll be the gladder to pick 'em up again when you get back."

"You bet we will!" said Nick, lifting his youngest responsibility for a kiss. "Come on, Gay, Mrs. Bemis knew the ins and outs of infant feeding before you were born. You needn't advise her any further."

"That's right," said Simeon. "Run along now and don't keep Nick waiting. Shan't look for you till the cows come home. Gorry! you don't neither of you look old enough to have two babies!"

"We don't feel old enough—today."

laughed Gay, as they turned away. Simeon, Sonny on his knee, watched them lovingly till they turned the corner.

"It's a good thing to be young," he murmured dreamily, "but it ain't bad being old, neither, so long as you've got something young around you. Don't hardly know what I'll do when Gay takes these babies back to Bakererville. Wish my old woman could see 'em. Maybe she does. Like as not she knows just how I'm a settin' here with Sonny on my knee. Well, little boy, you want to feed the chickens?"

"Yep," answered Sonny eagerly, and slipping off Simeon's knee, went straight for the umbrella, much to the admiration of his adopted uncle.

As for Gay and Nick, they forgot their cares with amazing ease. They climbed Bear Hill, the nearest approach to a mountain that the vicinity possessed, and later, in the cool of the forest shade, they waded a brook, while Nick built a dam; the task that getting married had interrupted four years before.

It was Gay who reminded him of that long-gone interruption. She sat on a convenient rock, her feet in the water, and watched him work.

"I hated to keep you from building the dam that day, Nick," she said regretfully. "It seemed wicked that you shouldn't do everything that came into your head; but I thought you'd forgotten what was before us, and I was nervous, even while it worried me to stop your fun. It worried me all the way to State Street."

"Idiot!" said Nick, pausing in his absorbing task to throw her a smile of understanding. He worked silently for a while; then stopped to survey the finished product of his labor.

"Some day, my dear! I ought to have been a civil engineer. Always wanted to, and I bet you, Gay, I'd have made a good one; but uncle wouldn't consider it for a minute."

He came nearer, and sat beside her on the rock.

"Say!" he exclaimed boyishly, "isn't it great being out here together? How cunning your feet look in the water!"

"Cunning!" laughed Gay. "I'd hardly call them that; though beside yours they do look—well, smaller than usual."

"They're small enough; and they haven't been spoiled by the spike heels our fair neighbor persists in wearing. I wonder what she'd think. Gay, if she could see us now!"

Sudden cold smote Gay's face, and she drew one foot up out of bailing water, and bade it moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit), 45 to 50 minutes. Serves 6.

"I thought you were ordered to forget your responsibilities," Gay answered, as her foot slipped back into the cool stream.

"I don't regard Sonny as a responsibility—today, anyway. He's a good little chum, just as you are. Do you know, dear, sometimes it comes over me how bleak life would be without you all. Just suppose I hadn't gone over to say good-bye to you that morning!"

Gay looked at him, her eyes brimming with tenderness.

"And you so nearly forgot me, darling."

Nick stared. He had never told her how true that was. Even now, as she slipped an arm across his shoulders, he felt ashamed for the memory.

"Did you think for a minute that I didn't know?" she questioned gently. "I was in the garden when I saw you come out with that stick and bundle. Could I have misunderstood after the times we'd planned your going? And when you turned away something—something went dead in my heart. Nick, it seemed so terrible that you could go like that—without a word—without even a thought of me, when I loved you more than anything in the world now."

"You—loved me!"

More Than Local Problem

Fight Of Western Farmer Matter Of National Concern

If the farmers of the west have made a mistake in depending too largely on wheat growing a change must be made. But wheat farming cannot be adopted at a moment's notice. In the meantime the inability of the west to sell its wheat surplus is more than a local problem. It is a matter of national concern that affects the prosperity of the east only in lesser degree to that of the west itself.

E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.F., was right when he said that some form of temporary assistance must be worked out. The lack of buying power of the western farmers has a direct effect on economic conditions in the eastern provinces.

The problem is not one that can be dismissed as a purely sectional matter in which the east has no concern.

The only question to be decided is as to the best and most effectual method of assistance, and that question must be settled by co-operation between the Federal Government and the provincial governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.—Toronto Telegram.

India's Greatest Surgeon

Though Retired As a Missionary Sir William Wanless Is Still Working

The many Canadian friends of Sir William Wanless, Kt., M.D., F.A.C.S., will be interested in the fact that, though retired as a Canadian missionary of the American Presbyterian Church he has returned to India in connection with the launching of the "S'r William Wanless Union Tuberculosis Sanatorium," located on a one-hundred-acre property two miles from Miraj in Western India where the distinguished missionary surgeon spent his life and became noted as probably the most skillful surgeon in all India. It is stated that Sir William throughout his missionary career performed not fewer than ninety-six thousand operations on all classes of people of India. Canada may well be proud of the contribution she has made to the welfare of peoples in other lands through the services of such distinguished missionaries as Sir William Wanless, President O. R. Avison, Dr. James S. Gale, and others.

Wheat Most Valuable Feed

Which is the most valuable as a feed for livestock, corn or wheat? While the place filled by these two feeds is not precisely the same it is being estimated at the present time that if corn is at one dollar a bushel it would be more economical to buy wheat at a dollar and twelve cents a bushel, indicating that wheat is slightly the more valuable of the two.

Taxis On Credit

Bombay Drivers

Taxi's can always be hired on credit in Bombay, reports a traveller. If you have no money with you, you simply give your name and address to the driver and he calls round at your house the next day—or oftener than not he doesn't bother to do so until some weeks afterwards, to such an extent does the native taximan trust the British ashik. Once in Bombay an Englishman hired a taxi to drive him to the docks. He went on board a liner and told the taxi-driver to wait while he said goodbye to a friend. But the liner sailed with him. The driver was so convinced of the honesty of his fare that he refused to budge till he came back. He sat steadfastly on the quayside for two and one-half days before the police could persuade him that the ashik was well on his way to England. Even they had to use force to make him go. By that time the fare on the meter was about 160 rupees!

Children Cry For It—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Little Help For This Week

"I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work."—John ix. 4.

Rest not content in thy darkness, a cloud.

Work for some good, be it ever so slowly.

Cherish some flower, be it ever so lowly.

Labour!—all labor is noble and holy; Let thy great deeds be thy prayer to thy God.

Remember now and always that life is no idle dream, but a solemn reality, based upon eternity and encompassed by eternity. Find out your task, stand to it; for the night cometh, when no man can work.

—Thomas Carlyle.

Remember now and always that life is no idle dream, but a solemn reality, based upon eternity and encompassed by eternity. Find out your task, stand to it; for the night cometh, when no man can work.
